To The Voters Of Findlay Community High School District

Since the organization of the High School District, the inspectors from the University of Illinois and also those from the office of the State Superintendent of Public Instruction have insisted that the Board of Education make an effort to secure a suitable high school building for the District.

Although handicapped by an inadequate school building, the Board of Education has to the present time, maintained a fully ACCREDITED and regularly RECOGNIZED four year high school by doing two things: First, employ good teachers and keep them for a term of years; second, Provide these teachers with an adequate supply of maps, charts, books, laboratory equipment and reference material so that a type of class room work could be done which would to some extent offset the handicap of an antiquated building.

In the early part of the present school year, the Board of Education of your district made application to the National Government for a grant and loan to assist it in its efforts to secure a suitable building for school purposes.

This application was favorably considered by the Government and the grant and loan are now available for the district, subject, however, to the results of the election to be held on SATURDAY, JANUARY 19, 1935 for the purpose of determining whether or not bonds shall be issued for the purpose of erecting a new building.

In the judgment of both the State Inspectors and the Board of Education of this district there is a real need for a new building.

It is also the opinion of the Board of Education that it is now possible with Government aid to supply this need.

In support of the above statements the following facts are submitted for your consideration:

1. The high school district at this time has no school building of its own, but as you know, is renting the rooms on the second floor of the Findlay Grade School building.

The clerk's records show that from September 1928 to September 1934 that the high school district has paid as rent a total of $5,530.86. The above does not include amounts paid for coal, lights and the usual running expenses.

2. The high school enrollment has increased to such an extent that the present quarters are now too small to accommodate the large assembly and classes.

The rooms are very small, poorly lighted and ventilated with no means of escape in case of fire and according to the report of the High School Inspectors, this is the only high school building in the State in which they find each room heated by a stove.

3. Unless some provision is made at this time to secure better accommodations, there is serious danger of our high school losing its Accredited Relations with the University of Illinois and its recognition by the State Superintendent of Public Instruction.

Such a loss would mean much to the district and to the high school students of the community.

4. The bonding power of the Board of Education is sufficient for the Board to undertake a building which are causing some such help germs.

Will Be Home Soon

Friends of Miss Mellie Spicer are pleased to learn that her physician thinks she can come home from a Chicago hospital in three weeks permanently cured.

Entering Sparks College

Carl Thomas will enter Sparks Business College next Monday.

For many years, can be built for an amount not to exceed $58,000.

6. Of this proposed $58,000, the National Government agrees to make an outright gift of $16,500 to the district and loan the remainder, $41,500, to the district at 4 per cent simple interest, subject, however, to an affirmative vote on January 19.

7. The district would then be obligated to issue bonds to the amount of $41,500. The bonds would bear interest at 4 per cent per annum and would be retired in 20 years.

The Government offers to buy these bonds and furnish the money or permit the Board of Education to sell them elsewhere.

8. Never before and possibly never again will we have the opportunity to obtain a new school building with the Government's giving outright 30 per cent of its cost and loaning the remainder 20 years at 4 per cent interest.

The Board of Education feels that it is duty bound to give the voters of the district an opportunity to take advantage of the Government's liberal offer.

It also feels that as a matter of good business judgment, we should avail ourselves of the Government's unusual offer and give to the district this much needed building.

The voters are urged to give careful and earnest consideration to this question while the opportunity is being offered.

Should questions arise about this proposition or should you be in doubt as to any part of it, you are urged to consult with members of the Board of Education.

The election will be held Saturday, January 19, 1935 at the Village Hall, Findlay, Illinois, between the hours of 7 A. M. and 5 P. M.

Respectfully submitted,

ADS. WILL TELL BANKERS' STORY

American Bankers Association
President Assembles Move
to Stimulate Newspaper
Advertising:

New York's plans for stimulating newspaper advertising in the creative newspaper advertising index, a promoting publication's volume and confidence in regard to existing banking conditions and methods have been announced by B. H. Hecht, president of the American Bankers Association, as a part of his organization's activities in aid of business recovery.

A general groundwork was prepared for a nationwide survey of advertising by banks relative to their willingness to extend credit to firms to industry and trade. Thus he said, reviewing what he believes numbers in all parts of the country are using aggressive policies along this line and encouraging their customers to do so forward-looking business plans. "It is our aim to redify by far, over this entire structure, whatever is possible," he said.

The Theme of New Advertising

The association's Advertising Department, under the direct supervision of the executive officers, has prepared, at the behest of its members in New York City, an informative advertisement for the use of member banks in their endeavor to add them in developing in their own communities better mutual public understanding regarding banking, Mr. Hecht said.

"The underlying theme of this advertisement is that banking is based on helpful human relations and that it has a duty of interest with the people or its community who it binds them together with a common purpose," he said.

We are confident that a clear understanding of this is brought home to the mind of all our banking community. It will go far in restoring the public confidence which good banking deserves. A bank in which people deserve to believe is doubly safe, it is to the public interest for the people to feel confident in their banks.

The Place of Advertising

We feel that local advertising has a social public duty to perform in this connection under existing conditions. The copy which will be supplied in the future we have developed will not only aid the individual bank in promoting the use of its own facilities but is designed to bring about with the aid of newspaper advertising a clearer public awareness regarding the essential principles in the life of its community.

Mr. Hecht emphasized in regard to new advertising facilities being offered to the members of the association that they are not a profit making venture and that there is no intention to discontinue existing advertising arrangements, the idea being that these institutional services shall supplement rather than replace present plans, and they will give assistance to members in tasks now lacking satisfactory arrangements.

Holy Banks Long Lived

In the United States—
16,363 Banks over 100 years old;
2,472 Banks over 50 years old;
16,391 Banks over 25 years old.

There are in the United States 13,500 banks that have been in continuous existence for more than one hundred years. There are 2,472 banks over 50 years old, while 64% of all the banks in the country, or 10,391, are twenty-five years old or older.

In other words, practically two thirds of the banks in this country have come into being in several successive periods of depression and panic, including 1907-08, 1929-32.

The Oldest Bank

The oldest bank in the country, which is in Boston, was chartered February 17, 1651.

Half the 13,500 banks that are twenty-five years old or older is located in the eastern portion of the banking center of the nation. In commenting recently upon the stability of a great many of the banks in the United States, Dr. Harold Strander, Educational Director of the American Bankers Association, said:

The fact that we have so many banks that have been in existence a long period of years is an eloquent proof of the soundness of American financial ability, for no other country has experienced such wild gambling and resultant periods of business stagnation as those through which our country has passed at frequent intervals during the past century."

NEW WEALTH FROM SOIL

New wealth which comes from the soil is of special interest to those who in turn take the responsibility of maintaining our credit structure.

Unless agriculture is successful farm owners cannot ultimately succeed neither can the banks they serve. For closure sales are not a sound basis to good farming or good banking. Banks, therefore, are as much interested in the permanent success of the agricultural industry as are the farmers who own the deposits come directly from farm patrons, or indirectly through the ordinary channels of business. D. H. Ois, Director of Agriculture, American Bankers Association.

IN MEMORIUM

In memory of mother, Mrs. Catherine Hecht, who passed away on December 22, 1934, the home of her daughter, Mrs. Eddie, remarks

MEMORIES THAT DO NOT FADE

"And forsake not the law of thy mother."—Proverbs 18

My mother's voice! It echoes lively.
Its crooning lullabies
The whole day long, in lifting song,
Overcoming childish cries

My mother's step! I hear it yet.
Its soft and eager tread,
As in and out, and all about,
Through busy hours it sped.

My mother's hand! I sense its touch.
Its tender, swift caress;
To think of it still aids a bit
To ease my strain and stress.

My mother's face! I see it now.
Its purity, and peace
Shine from afar, as from a star,
And bid my worries cease.

My mother's love! I feel it tug,
Its self-denying grace.
It helps me live; that I may give
To greed and hate no place.

My mother's faith! I'll hold it fast,
Its sureness and its breadth;
My journey through 'twill strength renew,
And comfort me in death.

The Land of Tomatoes

ITALY—the land of sunny skies, warm colors and good food—is indeed the land of tomatoes. Have you ever visited the market places of Italy? The women in bright aprons, shawls and scarfs evidently think more of food than thin figures, for with their proportions it is no trick at all to balance a market basket on their heads.

Let's Look In

Let's look into the market basket, we will say, at first glance that it is filled with scarlet red tomatoes, onions and the little Italian cheeses which Italians in their country have introduced to the gardens back yard gardens. If we are lucky enough to be home with one of these women we will find tomatoes converted into the most unbelievably good dishes—cucinato caciocotta, which is a broiled tiny chicken smothered with a savory sauce of tomatoes, mushrooms, olive oil and interesting seasonings; veal scallopini, thin slices of veal sauteed in a similar tomato, mushroom and oil sauce; ravioli, spaghetti, steaks sauteed with tomato bread dressings—almost everything that they eat is a flavor of tomatoes.

Since Italian tomato paste, for those who like the more concentrated native flavor, is available in cans, we can make these native dishes to perfection. For those who prefer our own large ripe tomatoes in cans, the addition of Parmesan cheese gives this the necessary tang.
